DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
  - I. Claims 1-16, drawn to methods for assessment of cystic lung fibrosis, classified in class 436, subclass 518.
  - II. Claims 17-18, drawn to kits for assessment of cystic lung fibrosis, classified in class 422, subclass 61.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

2. Inventions I and II are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product. See MPEP § 806.05(h). In the instant case the kits of Group II may be used in methods other than the methods for assessment of cystic lung fibrosis of Group I, for example, in methods to affinity purify CAP 18 from a heterogeneous sample.

3. These inventions are distinct for the reasons given above, have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter and as shown by their different classification. Moreover, the searches required for one group are not required for the others. In addition to the classification-based search of the patent literature, text searches of the non-patent literature would also be non-coextensive due to the different limitations recited in each group. Therefore, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Election of Species

4. This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species:
  - a. Assay format (elect one of the following):
    - i. Immobilization of CAP 18 in the sample to a solid phase (see claims 7, 14, and 17)
    - ii. Two-antibody sandwich-type assay (see claims 8, 15, and 18)
  - b. Assessment (elect one of the following):
    - i. Diagnosis
    - ii. Determination of the presence or absence of risk
    - iii. Assessment of the level of risk
    - iv. Assessment of the severity and/or acuteness
    - v. Assessment regarding progress of disease

The species are independent or distinct because with respect to (a) above, the assay formats invoke distinct and mutually exclusive method steps and require different sets of reagents. As such, different searches of the patent and non-patent literature would be required. With respect to (b) above, the different types of “assessment” of cystic lung fibrosis differ with respect to method objective, patient populations upon which the methods would be performed, and would involve distinct method steps in order to achieve the recited assessment objectives. For example, “diagnosis” would involve patients suspected of having disease, while “assessment regarding progress of disease” would encompass the non-overlapping set of patients already diagnosed with disease. Moreover, the different assessment objectives require different patentability considerations under 112, 1st paragraph. As such, it would be burdensome to search and examine all of the species.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable.

With respect to (a) above, currently, claims 1-6, 9-13, and 16 are generic. Claims 7-8, 14-15, and 17-18 are subject to species election.

With respect to (b) above, currently, claims 1-8, 10-15, and 17-18 are generic. Claims 9 and 16 are subject to species election.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of an allowable generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

Art Unit: 1641

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103(a) of the other invention.

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

Notice of Possible Rejoinder

The examiner has required restriction between product and process claims. Where applicant elects claims directed to the product, and the product claims are subsequently found allowable, withdrawn process claims that depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of the allowable product claim will be considered for rejoinder. All claims directed a nonelected process invention must require all the limitations of an allowable product claim for that process invention to be rejoined.

Art Unit: 1641

In the event of rejoinder, the requirement for restriction between the product claims and the rejoined process claims will be withdrawn, and the rejoined process claims will be fully examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. Thus, to be allowable, the rejoined claims must meet all criteria for patentability including the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 101, 102, 103 and 112. Until all claims to the elected product are found allowable, an otherwise proper restriction requirement between product claims and process claims may be maintained.

Withdrawn process claims that are not commensurate in scope with an allowable product claim will not be rejoined. See MPEP § 821.04(b). Additionally, in order to retain the right to rejoinder in accordance with the above policy, applicant is advised that the process claims should be amended during prosecution to require the limitations of the product claims. Failure to do so may result in a loss of the right to rejoinder. Further, note that the prohibition against double patenting rejections of 35 U.S.C. 121 does not apply where the restriction requirement is withdrawn by the examiner before the patent issues. See MPEP § 804.01.
